

Take the Magic Home

Today we visited Trip-Trap Hollow!

We met Timmer, a troll who seemed scary at first - but the Three Goats Bramble discovered there was much more to his story. Timmer wasn't trying to frighten anyone. He needed help, and no one had taken the time to understand him.

Talk About It Together

- Have you ever thought someone was being mean and later discovered there was more to the story?
- How can we learn more before deciding what someone is like?
- What are some kind ways to ask for help?
- What could we do if we notice someone who might need a friend?

Trip-Trap Hollow Family Challenge

This week, look for someone who might need a little kindness. Do something kind, include them, ask if they need help, or simply take time to listen.

Sometimes the whole story changes when we take the time to listen.
