

WALK in TIMMER'S WORLD

Let's think about how Timmer felt in the story.
Then think about what we can do to show kindness.

TRIP-TRAP
HOLLOW

1

TRIP!
TRAP! TRAP!

Timmer lives under the bridge.

The goats trip-trap across the bridge and run away from Timmer because they think he is scary.

How might Timmer feel?

Circle his face.

Why do you think he feels that way? _____

2

No one stops to be Timmer's friend.

Timmer is all alone under the bridge while the goats keep running away.

How might Timmer feel now?

Circle his face.

What do you wish someone could say to Timmer? _____

3

Veronica is kind and stops to help.

Veronica finds out Timmer cannot see well. She checks his eyes and helps him see clearly.

How might Timmer feel now?

Circle his face.

What do you think Timmer is feeling now? _____

4

Timmer can see and has friends!

Timmer wears his new glasses and becomes friends with the goats. They laugh, share, and enjoy daisies together.

How does Timmer feel now?

Circle his face.

What helped Timmer's feelings change? _____

Walk in Timmer's World

Sometimes we think we know why someone did something—but we may not know the whole story.

What can you do when someone is being misunderstood?

LISTEN

Listen to hear the whole story.

ASK QUESTIONS

Ask kind questions to understand.

BE KIND

Be kind with your words and actions.

BE KIND. ALWAYS TELL THE TRUTH. FRIENDS LISTEN.
